

Help us find the top priority questions in palliative care

Cochrane is a global independent network of people interested in health, including researchers, professionals, patients, and carers. Cochrane evidence provides a powerful tool to enhance healthcare knowledge and decision making. The Cochrane Pain, Palliative and Supportive Care (PaPaS) Review Group publishes high quality systematic reviews and we are inviting you to help work out the priority questions in adult palliative care.

We want to focus our research on questions that are meaningful and important to you, our stakeholders. Stakeholders are defined as an individual or group with an interest in an organization's decisions or activities.

We would love to hear from those with an interest in, and experience of, adult palliative care, for example: family members and carers; clinicians and health professionals; researchers; policy makers; guideline developers; advocacy groups; charities and organizations.

The closing date is midnight (GMT) on 28 February 2021, and should only take 5 – 15 minutes to complete. You are welcome to forward this invitation to other individuals or organizations who might be interested in providing feedback.

Your responses will guide our decision making over the next five years as we plan to update existing Cochrane Reviews and identify further relevant questions.

If you have any queries, please contact Anna Erskine anna.erskine@ouh.nhs.uk or find us online. Updates on this project will be posted regularly.
